Mysuru, Mar. 16 (RK,KS&BS)- In a swift action, V.V. Puram Police, led by Inspector M. Mohan Kumar, have arrested a chain-snatcher within six hours of the incident in city this morning.

The accused, a 28-year-old youth, who came on a navy blue coloured two-wheeler, with a half-visible number plate, snatched the gold chain weighing 65 grams from the victim, identified as Pushpa Devi, wife of late Shantilal Jain, on first main road (parallel road to Hotel Dasaprakash Paradise), Yadavagiri, between 7.15 am and 7.25 am.

The victim resides at Palatine Elite Apartments on first Main Road, Yadavagiri and the incident occurred 300 metres away from her house.

Victim Pushpa Devi

According to the footage of CCTV camera, the accused was waiting on his two-wheeler when the victim was on her morning walk. He noticed her and came back, rode a distance, stopped the vehicle and walked near the victim, yanked off the gold chain and sped on his bike.

The Police team, supervised by ACP (NR Sub-Division) C.K. Ashwathnarayan, led by Inspector M. Mohan Kumar, including PSIs K. Lepaksha and K.K. Mohan, on the basis of CCTV camera footages, traced the accused to Vijayanagar at about 1.30 pm, arresting him within six hours of the incident.

The Police cross checked the registration number of the accused's vehicle with RTO, got the details and traced him near his house. He is a food delivery boy, a resident of the area near Vijayanagar Water Tank and has been brought to V.V. Puram Police Station for questioning.

The accused who recently had a love marriage, was deep in debts and committed the crime to clear them.

Inspector Mohan Kumar, who cracked the case in no time, was part of the investigation team that solved retired IB Officer R.N. Kulkarni's murder case (hit-and-run case on Nov. 4, 2022) by arresting the culprits and seizing the car used in the crime. Mohan Kumar had previously served as the Inspector of State Intelligence Wing, Kodagu.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Happiness is a state of well-being when positive thoughts and emotions flow through your mind. Happiness should be an absolute concept, but it becomes relative as the triggers are different for each person. One may feel happy simply by looking at the beauty of nature —the sunrise, the sunset, the birds chirping, or the plants and trees shining with wet, vibrant colours as the gentle rainfall acts as a natural sprinkler.

In contrast, happiness obtained by the purchase of material possessions is temporary and vanishes as soon as the novelty wears off. Ponder over this: a toy for a child, a cell phone for a teenager, a sari or suit for the adult, a jewellery piece for a beloved, the latest model furniture for the house — how long will the euphoria last? A day, or at best, a few days, and then these things will no longer be considered new or exciting!

Keeping a pet animal may be a source of happiness for a few; it is said that cuddling a pet relieves stress to a certain degree. The same pet may become a source of sorrow when it passes away due to disease, old age, or an accident. In a way, the pet got turned into a possession, and such happiness, as elucidated above, is temporary.

But bonding with animals can become a continual source of happiness, as when a person visits an animal shelter and gets to cuddle any and every animal. The happiness is spontaneous, yet the person is saved from the rigours of excessive attachment to the animal. A herd of cows passes by my house daily, and each day I offer a plate of eatables to any cow that I happen to see first. I stroke it as it eats and derive some happiness. It goes away, but my happiness does not vanish, as I am expecting to cuddle a cow the next day.

So possessions do not necessarily bring happiness, although a positive expectation may do so. A great way to feel happy is to bring happiness to others. A few words of comfort to another or parting with something dear to you just to bring cheer to a friend or relative is totally refreshing, strengthening, and brings unparalleled joy.

Martial artist breaks his world record

Beijing: A Chinese martial arts expert broke his own Guinness World Record for nunchaku reverse shoulder passes while standing on the Great Wall of China.

Xie Desheng completed 154 reverse shoulder passes with his nunchaku, weapons also known as nunchucks, in one minute.

The martial artist took on the record attempt while visiting the Great Wall of China in Beijing. Xie broke his own record of 150 passes, which he set in November 2022.

Sweaters made from oyster shells, plastic bottles

Massachusetts: A Massachusetts company is aiming to make oceans and landfills a little bit cleaner by making sweaters out of oyster shells and plastic bottles.

Mike Lamagna, the founder of Long Wharf Supply Co., said customers are often surprised to learn each sweater in his company's Seawell Collection is made from four to five oyster shells and about eight recycled water bottles.

Lamagna said water bottles are a major source of ocean pollution, and oyster shells sent to landfills causes the calcium carbonate in the shells to break down slowly and become toxic.

The sales of the sweaters benefit the MA Oyster Project, which aims to "seed" recycled oyster shells back into the ocean, where they create substrate for baby oysters, animals that naturally filter the ocean water. "Every piece can reseed up to 30 oysters, which will naturally filter up to 1,500 gallons of seawater every single day," Lamagna said.

Technology comes handy in investigation: DGP

Dr. P. Ravindranath receives guard of honour at Passing Out Parade of Women Probationary Police personnel

Mysuru, Mar. 16 (RK&BS)- Director General of Police (DGP-Training), Dr. P. Ravindranath, has said, "the combined software of Prosecution, Forensic Sciences and Prisons has come in handy in investigating the cases using technology."

Dr. Ravindranath addressed a gathering during the Passing Out Parade of total 335 Women Probationary Police personnel — 240 from eighth batch, Police Training School, Jyotinagar and 95 from fourth batch, Temporary Police Training School, CAR, Mysuru — organised jointly at DAR Parade Grounds in city this morning.

Dr. Ravindranath, who gave a pep talk on various roles to be handled by the Police, said: "Be it investigation and cracking of crimes, management of law and order or streamlining traffic system, Police have a huge role to play. The Department for its overall growth should also use the potential of the recruits, as most of them are highly educated beyond the minimum qualification (second PUC pass or equivalent course) required for the recruitment of Police personnel."

With more thrust on technology, Police Department is using CCTV cameras and drone cameras even to maintain law and order, under the concepts of 'Safe City' in Bengaluru and 'Smart Cities' in other cities. Though officials play a key role in the hierarchy of Police Department, the works of Police Constables and Head Constables also assume significance. The personnel should be abreast of several Laws and Acts like Juvenile Justice Act, SC/ ST Act (Prevention of Atrocities), Information Technology Act among others. According to Karnataka Police Act 1963, the Police Constables and Head Constables are also deemed to be officers. Hence they have more responsibilities in the Department, said Dr. Ravindranath.

To ensure that Policemen should not be deprived of any facilities, more emphasis is laid on providing vehicle and housing facilities. With the intention to increase the numbers of Police Sub-Inspectors (PSIs) in the Department, it is planned to promote those eligible in the coming days, the DGP said.

H.S. Gange, the outgoing Probationary Woman Police of eighth batch who won the 'All Round Best Trainee' title, was the Parade Commander.

Of the total 335 outgoing women Police Probationers, one is a Dental Graduate, 36 BE holders, 76 Post-Graduates and 200 Graduates.

Why stop trains just before entry to City Rly. Station?

Sir,

I travel frequently from Bengaluru to Mysuru by train. Almost all trains stop and wait for signal just before entry to Mysuru Station Platform for nearly 15 to 30 minutes although some platforms are empty.

As a result passengers will have to climb up and down the staircase with luggage and families (young and old). Hope the Railway officials concerned will take corrective action in the interest of passengers.

Have you not wondered why conditions abroad are better both for study and work ?

Why are countries like Singapore, Dubai, UK, USA cleaner and more comfortable to live ?

Why Indians — like Sundar Pichai of Google; Satya Nadella, Head of Microsoft; Nikesh Arora, CEO of Palo Alto Networks; Dinesh Paliwal, CEO of Harman International; Pankaj Patel, Executive Vice-President of CISCO System; Sanjay Mehrotra CEO of Micron Technology; Indra Nooyi, Head of Pepsico, world's largest soft drink company and who just retired — succeed only after they studied or worked abroad?

Why can't our political leaders introduce suitable changes in administration to create similar conditions in India for you to succeed ?

Mysore Open Forum invites you to attend a public discussion programme on Saturday, the 18th March, 2023 at 4 pm at Bahadur Institute of Management Sciences, Manasagangothri, Hunsur Road, Mysuru, to discuss all this and more. Countdown for State Assembly Election

Democracy, Elections and Electoral Reforms

By Prof. M. Umapathy
Convenor, Mysore Open Forum

> Elections in India are the most corrupt in practice. Voter decides on a corrupt government or a good government. But the first imperative is, voting. So please go to the polling booth.

Election time is the spring time of politics. Issues like democracy, elections and electoral reforms, all come to the fore for much discussion, debate, diagnosis and prescriptions. Our hunger to improve them are behind it.

Democracy

"Democracy is a Government by the people, for the people and of the people," said Abraham Lincoln in mid 19th century. A hundred and plus a few years later, Nath Pai, a brilliant member of the Indian Parliament, made fun of it by saying "Democracy is BUY the people, FAR the people and OFF the people."

These two definitions indicate the fine expectations and the frustrating disappointments with democracy in theory and practice. Both of them are only partially correct.

Lincoln's definition assumes democracy literally as a 'cracy' (rule) by 'demos' (people). It also assumes 'all power to the people' in a democracy. But both these are fallacies. Every Government is always 'by a few' and democracy stands for 'all power to none'. It is a Government based on the theory of separation of powers or distribution of powers between different wings (Executive, Legislature, Judiciary) and levels (Central, Local) of Government. This makes democracy a "Government by checks and balances." Incidentally the opposite of democracy is not even any and every dictatorship, but only 'autocracy standing for all power to one.'

Yet, there is a definite difference between 'Democracy' and 'other' forms of Government. The Democratic Government is a Govt. of three 'R's namely 1. Representative, 2. Responsive and 3. Responsible.

Democracy demands, first, that only people's Representatives will rule. Second, it demands that their rule must be Responsive or caring and responding to the needs, wishes and opinions of the people. Third, it expects the democratic Government to be Responsible or accountable to the people it rules.

To make the Government a representative one, Periodic, Free and Fair elections are the necessary instruments. To make it responsive democracy demands a 'Government by Discussion' in the elected Assemblies, independent judiciary, free media and anywhere by citizens. To promote this 'Government by Discussion,' the Constitution provides 1. Recognised and Respected opposition, 2. Freedom of press and media and 3. Freedom of expression to the citizens as Constitutional rights. Elections and a Government by discussion make the Government responsible or 'Accountable' too.

The demands of democracy are very tall. It is not enough if all the above are in the 'Constitution of the country. Both rulers and the people should develop value and practice the 'democratic culture'. There are today, democracy watchers and evaluators, who study and rate various democracies in the world on a scale of indices.

All said and done we must realise that democracy in operation always looks like what Prof. Galbraith called Indian democracy: "A functioning anarchy." Yet democracy is the most civilised and Constitutional form of Government. Elections are the most complicated and corrupt systems in practice. They have improved overtime and will improve further through Electoral Reforms.

Elections

Karnataka Assembly Elections (2023) and the Parliamentary Elections (2024) are round the corner. 'Election time' is the 'Spring time' of the voter too. Voter's importance, rights and duties all will be in limelight. The much pushed around common individual becomes the 'Citizen in the central stage.' Much more, he becomes 'Voter - the God' to be prayed, pleased and worshipped by the political class and parties.

The Right to Vote given to him enables the citizen to become a decider of who should represent and rule him, and how they rule for a given period.

The Duty to Vote is a very responsible one. For the nation or any community, it decides the type of governance it gets.

In these circumstances, the voter must exercise his valuable vote very carefully and responsibly. The first requirement is that he must vote as each vote counts. Remember that ex-MP R. Dhruvanarayan, who expired early this week, had won the Santhemaralli Assembly Constituency election in 2004 with just a 'single vote majority'. Second, the voter must not allow himself to be lured by temptations offered by the candidates. He should realise that corruption in election is the mother of all corruption in Governments later.

Electoral Reforms

In the context of widespread electoral corruption prevailing, the voter and the nation must demand meaningful 'electoral reforms'. First, our search for better candidates can move towards Primary Elections to select candidates. Second, the party system which is unregulated must be well regulated by a separate 'Party Law'. Third, to reduce the role of 'money power' in elections, there is a need to move towards effectively reducing and limiting electoral expenditure and then meeting it through 'State Funding'. Fourth, reforms in the electoral system to improve efficiency and effectiveness such as those recommended by various committees set up by the Governments such as the Tarakunde Committee and Goswami Committee are needed to be enacted and implemented.

MCC Standing Committees 'Headless'

Cong., JD(S) Corporators stage separate protests

Congress leaders, led by former Mayor Ayub Khan, staging a protest in front of the Mayor's chamber at the MCC premises in city yesterday.

Mysuru, Mar. 16 (MTY&BCT)- The election of the Chairpersons to the various Standing Committees of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has been repeatedly postponed and even the last MCC Council meeting that was supposed to be held on Monday (Mar. 13) was put off though a notification was issued.

The meeting was postponed as Mayor Shivakumar did not turn up as he was unwell.

The Opposition Congress and the JD(S) have expressed their unhappiness over the postponement of the election and said that the move is an attack on democracy.

As the elections are not held and the Standing Committees have remained headless, all development works in the city have come to a grinding halt, they alleged.

Congress leader and former Mayor Ayub Khan slammed the Mayor for the delay in the election and said that even after seven months after the Mayor-Deputy Mayor election was held, the Standing Committees have remained headless. "This shows that the BJP has the least respect for democracy," he said.

Even the Finance and Taxation Standing Committee is headless and this will affect the MCC Budget preparation where funds are allocated. "If funds are not allotted where is the question of development," he asked.

A section of Corporators, led by Ayub Khan, held a protest yesterday demanding the immediate constitution of the Standing Committee Chairmen. Along with Ayub Khan, Corporators Sridhar, Shanthakumari, Shobha Sunil and Pallavi Begum were present.

They decried the Mayor's move of not holding elections and alleged that the Mayor was alone enjoying the spoils of power as the power will be decentralised if the heads of Standing Committees are appointed.

JD(S) too stage demo

Even the JD(S) held a protest yesterday against the postponement of elections to the Standing Committee heads.

The protest was led by former Mayor Tasneem. Corporators SBM Manju, M.D. Nagaraj, Shobha Mohan, Ashwini Ananthu and Bhagya Mahadesh were present.

The protesters said that the Mayor was giving unnecessary excuses for not conducting the election and this is an assault on democracy. The Council Meeting has been postponed thrice for silly reasons, they charged.

"The Mayor who claimed that he was unwell has enthusiastically participated in the BJP's Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra. This shows his lack of concern for a democratic process in the MCC which he heads," the JD(S) Corporators alleged.

The entry and exit points of the College were examined and the officers were asked to take into consideration the food and accommodation arrangements to be provided to the security forces who will be guarding the centre 24X7.

Meanwhile, following directions from Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has begun removing the publicity materials — flex banners, hoardings and wall posters of political parties, ticket aspirants and others.

In his orders, the DC said that it is mandatory for all political leaders, aspirants and candidates to take permission from the local bodies or the City Corporation before putting up publicity materials.

In case of any violation, steps will be taken against the persons responsible for putting up unauthorised flex banners, the DC warned. Implementing the orders from the DC immediately last night, MCC's Abhaya teams 1, 2 and 3 led by Manju, Shivu and Ramesh respectively began removing all the publicity materials including the posters that displayed birthday wishes and ticket ambitions of party workers.

Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra and City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh seen discussing during inspection of the counting centre to be set up at Maharani's Commerce and Management College for Women on Valmiki Road in city this morning. They were accompanied by DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj, DCP (Crime and Traffic) S. Jahnavi, MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar and other officials. Picture right shows the MCC Abhaya teams removing the flex boards across the city.

Each Abhaya team has four members and they are going around the city clearing the banners. While a small percentage of the banners were cleared this morning, the entire task will be completed in a day or two. The MCC has appealed to the people to alert the officers and staff in case they come across such publicity posters, banners and hoardings.

Eliminate human-animal conflict during election season

In the wake of the high level of human-animal conflict in Mysuru including tiger, leopard and elephant attacks, DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra, who is the District Election Officer has passed on instructions to his staff to take measures to eliminate human-animal conflict during the election season.

At an interaction yesterday with Sector Officers, Police, Excise, Expenditure Officers, Flying Surveillance Teams, Flying Squads and others, the DC asked the officers to address the issues arising in forest fringes where the instances of attacks on humans by wild animals is on the rise.

The border areas of the forests are vulnerable and concrete measures have to be taken by the Forest and Revenue Departments to resolve the problem at the earliest, the DC added.

Bank transactions will be under watch: DC

Mysuru, Mar, 16 (RK&BCT)- At a meeting with the representatives of political parties yesterday, DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra said that they have to take valid permission though the code of conduct has yet to come into effect for holding bike rallies.

Permission is also mandatory for political party meetings even before the poll code comes into effect, he added. "Compulsory permission has to be taken for putting up pandals and sound systems at the meetings convened by political parties. If there are any violations, stringent action will be taken under the Karnataka Police Act and Motor Vehicles Act," the DC said.

Warning parties if they distribute gifts to lure voters, the DC said that the administration, flying squads, static surveillance teams, mobile squads and other teams like the GST will keep a close watch. Instructions have already been passed to all the banks and financial institutions to report any suspicious transactions, including large withdrawals of cash, large cash transfers, transfers of large sums to a single account and transfers of funds to multiple accounts. Mysuru City Corporation Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri and other officers were present.

Toll collection on Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway

HC seeks NHAI response on following stipulated rules

Bengaluru, Mar. 16 (Agencies)- The Karnataka High Court (HC) yesterday took suo motu cognisance of news reports about the inconvenience caused to motorists on the first day of the toll collection on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway (NH 275). The Court directed the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) to respond to these issues within three weeks.

A Division Bench, comprising Chief Justice Prasanna B. Varale and Justice Ashok S. Kinagi, sought a response from NHAI on various issues faced by motorists, as reported in newspapers that highlighted issues raised by commuters and the situation at the toll booths.

The cognisance of issues was taken during the hearing of a PIL, filed in 2022 on lack of proper signage and safety measures in the ongoing work of widening the Highway stretch between Bengaluru and Kanakapura.

The Bench noted that newspaper reports on the Expressway toll collection row have pointed out issues like the commencement of toll collection without the completion of the entire construction work.

It also took to account the improper functioning of boom barriers causing damages to vehicles at toll booths, and technical glitches in automatic FasTag scanners forcing the toll gate staff to use manual scanners.

"The grievance mentioned in the news items is that when the work is still not complete, collection of levy or toll is unjustified. It is also stated that due to heavy technical glitches, barriers are not properly functioning and this faulty functioning or mechanism resulted in causing damage to the vehicles," the Bench said.

The Bench, citing news reports, noted that the motorists were made to wait in long queues over technical glitches in FasTag identification. The Bench also cited reports and said all these resulted in heavy congestion of vehicles and would force motorists to use the service road resulting in them spending more time for travel.

Referring to the National Highways Fee (Determination of Rates and Collection) Rules, the Court said the rules mandate various prerequisites, including issuing of a public notice, before the commencement of toll collection. But it appears that this has not been done before commencement of toll collection. Hence, all issues related to toll collection should be considered in the public interest, the Bench said and adjourned further hearing till April 11.

Anti-toll protest on Mar. 17

Mysuru, Mar. 16 (GA&BCT)- Several organisations, Kannada activists and voluntary groups have rallied behind BJP MLC A.H. Vishwanath, who will stage a peaceful protest against toll collection on Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway on Mar. 17 at Manipal Hospital Junction at 10.30 am.

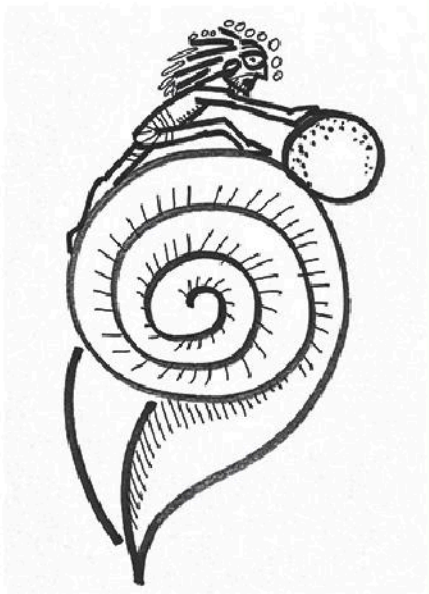
DECODING MYTHOLOGY

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Again and Again and Again Indian Mythology



In Greek mythology, we hear the story of Sisyphus. The gods condemn him to roll a rock up the mountain all day, only to find the rock rolling down at night. Thus, he is doomed for all eternity, to repeat the task again and again and again. This is the Greek version of hell, or Tartarus. It represents the modern mindset, where repetitive activity is seen as the worst punishment. Consequently, creativity, newness and freedom become the paradise that everyone seeks. So, the heaven of the gods becomes a place where one is free to do whatever one wants, against the slave who is forced to do the same thing again and again.

This mindset prevails in capitalism as well as communism. Ideologies which are inspired by Greek myths. They became popular in the 19th Century. Sisyphus was condemned by the elite, and the privileged. Everyone craved freedom. Everyone rejected the old way and sought something new and exciting — a new world order. Not a return to the good old days, but the creation of a new way.

The Sunday mass of Christians and Friday prayers of Muslims are repetitive too, as the faithful await the end of the world, and Judgement Day. Repetition here is to remind people of the God who must be obeyed; the law that must be followed. The point of repetition is to secure alignment to a single idea. In Hinduism, Buddhism and Jainism, ritual repetition has a different purpose.

Hinduism, Buddhism and Jainism are based on rebirth. You live the same life again and again or break free. Entrapment happens if you live without insight and believe that the world will align to your will. Freedom comes when you gain insight into how the world will not be controlled by your will. Insight is gained by doing the same task again and again and again, like chanting God's name, or a mantra, or a ritual, daily, weekly, fortnightly, monthly, quarterly, annually. But with awareness.

When you stir milk, in a repetitive, rhythmic manner, the butter separates. When you repeatedly grind corn, finer flour is produced. When you repeatedly do a task, your efficiency level improves. When you keep doing the same thing again and again, you start seeing details, fine differences, that you were unaware of when you began.

By genuinely paying attention to the Ramayana, repeated again and again, you start finding layers of meaning within it. When you listen to the aarti, you gain insight that escaped you before. Repetition thus is not about alignment, but about enlightenment, igniting awareness so you see what no one else saw.

Temple rituals are based on cycles of the moon (month), sun (year), Venus (8 years), Jupiter (12 years). Repetition creates a sense of order. But repetition is linked to change: change of seasons, change of tides. This change is cyclical. But one shift can break the cycle and create a spiral.

Hence Vishnu holds in his hands symbols of both options: the wheel circle (representing entrapment) and conch-shell spiral (representing freedom). In a world that celebrates innovation and invention and believes that a better world is created by rejecting the past, it is important to revisit the past in a repetitive manner and appreciate the power of repetition.

Passion drives her to scale Mount Kilimanjaro, alone

Mysuru, Mar. 16 (BCT)- Scaling heights is what enthrals her most. Jammada Preeth Appaiah, a resident of Bannimantap in Mysuru, has recently climbed Mount Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain peak in Africa. She reached the summit of the highest free-standing mountain in the world at 5,895 metres (19,340 feet).

Also called a stratovolcano (a term for a very large volcano made of ash, lava, and rock), Kilimanjaro is made up of three cones — Kibo, Mawenzi and Shira. Kibo is the summit of the mountain and the tallest of the three volcanic formations. While Mawenzi and Shira are extinct, Kibo is dormant. The highest point on Kibo's crater rim is called Uhuru.

Jammada Preeth Appaiah

Medical condition did not deter her

Preeth Appaiah is a housewife who had a sciatic nerve problem and doctors had advised her not to do any physical activity which could aggravate her pain. But her medical condition did not deter her from achieving the feat and her main source of inspiration is her younger son Aryan Kuttappa who went on an expedition to the Himalayas in 2018.

She went on her first expedition to Mount Bhrigu, Himachal Pradesh, in 2018. Since then, she never looked back and she has climbed many mountains like Mount Sar Pass, Valley of Flowers and the Great Lakes of Kashmir. Her instinct to climb Kilimanjaro was kindled in 2022 when a group of people from Mysuru successfully climbed Kilimanjaro.

Though she had made up her mind to go ahead and her instinct said she could do it, the advice given by her doctors against any misadventure was playing at the back of her mind. But her elder son Pratham Poonacha was a constant motivator who goaded her to pursue her passion.

Preeth Appaiah then spoke to various persons in Mysuru and booked an agency for the trekking and the training started under the mentorship of Yoga Guru Mahadeva. She left Mysuru on Mar. 2 and began the actual trek to Kilimanjaro on Mar. 3. She returned to Mysuru on Mar. 11 after scaling the mountain on Mar. 8.

Not an easy task

"I tried coaxing people to come along but none from Mysuru came along. But I was determined to go and took the yellow fever shot and set the rucksack in order and went to the airport to board for Kilimanjaro. It was not an easy task for a woman to travel alone and in the journey, you do not know if there will be anyone coming along on the trek from the Marangu Gate in Tanzania," she told Star of Mysore.

Preeth Appaiah trekked through the rainforest to Mandara Hut and from here she went to Horombo Hut and reached Kibo Hut walking amidst the Alpine Desert. "The view of Mount Kibo is just mesmerising but here I was totally out of shape due to altitude sickness. But as advised by my mentors, I took lots of liquids to keep myself hydrated. From Horombo Hut, I trekked to Kibo Hut which is physically challenging and steep too," she added.

From here, many return. "But in my case, I had overcome altitude sickness and was going well and finally had a good rest. Mar. 8, 2023, International Women's Day coincided with my summit feat and I got on to conquer Mount Kilimanjaro," she said. She started the final walk on Mar. 7 at 11 pm and reached the summit at 8 am on Mar. 8.

"It was an enthralling moment of my life as I set foot on Kilimanjaro via Gilman's Point. It was not an arduous task. After walking more than 10 hours, I reached the summit of Mount Kilimanjaro and Uhuru," she recalled.

It was a proud moment, she said as she held the National Tricolour. This would not have been possible without the support of her husband Jammada M. Aiyanna, who is an advocate in Mysuru. Preeth is the daughter of Hon. Captain late Kunjiyanda Appaiah and Gowramma couple. Her brother Kunjiyanda Machaiah (Machu) is a wildlife photographer.

"Before trekking to Kilimanjaro, I used to keep the mountain photo as my mobile phone status and was dreaming of scaling it one day. Now that I have accomplished the feat, I feel fulfilled. I want to continue this passion and scale more peaks," she said.

Preeth Appaiah was initially trained in mountaineering by Tiger Solanki of Tiger Adventure Foundation (TAF) and later on by Vinay Singh and Shankar Subramanya of Royal Riders and the International Academy of Mountaineering and Allied Sports ▪

WORD OF THE DAY

Gallivant

Pronunciation: GAL-uh-vant.
Meaning: Gallivant means "to go or travel to many different places for pleasure."
Origin: Back in the 14th century, gallant, a noun borrowed from the French word galant, referred to a fashionable young man. By the middle of the next century, it was being used more specifically to refer to such a man who was attentive to, and had a fondness for, the company of women. In the late 17th century, this "ladies' man" sense gave rise to the verb gallant to describe the process a suitor used to win a lady's heart, and "gallanting" became synonymous with "courting." It's this verb gallant that is the likely source of gallivant, which originally meant "to act as a gallant" or "to go about usually ostentatiously or indiscreetly with members of the opposite sex." Today, however, gallivant is more likely to describe pleasurable wandering than romancing.
Example: "Under normal circumstances, most of us can't drop what we're doing with zero notice, buy a last-minute airplane ticket, and just show up to gallivant across the country with someone we're attracted to, without telling anyone where we are." —Jen Chaney

THE ODD WORD

Galactophorous
Bearing or carrying milk.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Give someone the slip

Meaning: The expression "Give someone the slip" is used to describe the act of escaping.
Origin: The phrase 'give someone the slip' probably originated from the word 'slipper' (a word used to describe a slippery persona). This originated around the mid-1500s.
Example: "The dog has been trying to catch old Rex for weeks, but that hound is talented at giving him the slip!"

QUOTE BOX

Heroes are people who rise to the occasion and slip quietly away.

—Tom Brokaw
